JOINT MOTION TO AMEND FIRST AMENDED SCHEDULING ORDER

Despite the parties' diligently working together to advance this action toward trial as expeditiously as practicable, the parties have encountered complex issues with both nonparty discovery and the forensic examination of Defendants' devices and cloud-based accounts. Accordingly, to allow sufficient time to complete the nonparty discovery as well as the forensic examination, which both will allow depositions to be taken and discovery to be completed, the parties jointly move to extend certain deadlines set forth in the First Amended Scheduling Order entered September 1, 2023 [ECF No. 114]. The parties' proposed Second Amended Scheduling Order is being emailed to Chambers.

Respectfully submitted,

BUTLER SNOW LLP
